To Whom It May Concern:

Thank you for the opportunity to apply to join your team. On my resume, you'll see that I have 20+ years of experience in communications, marketing, branding and public relations—as well as a sterling reputation among my peers. The testimonials from colleagues and friends like Congressman Eli Crane (AZ) and Jan Jakielek of EpochTV's American Thought Leaders attest to my character and abilities.

As Jan wrote, I am “known and respected from Capitol Hill to local communities” for my work and ability to cultivate excellent professional relationships with leaders, media, celebrities, and everyday people.

I have rich experience in traditional, digital and content marketing, and have done brand development, marketing and copywriting for multiple corporations, organizations, agencies and other groups. I'm adept at translating complex legal, medical and scientific concepts in a way that resonates with the public.

I have years of experience in public and media relations, both on contract, and as a C-suite national director. I have a calm but commanding demeanor that comes in handy, even with difficult people or emotionally charged audiences.

In my current consulting duties for the organizations you'll see on my resume, I produce email campaigns, media releases, articles, video, social media content and so on and regularly communicate with members of the media, from conservative (Fox News, Newsmax, RSBN, Bannon's War Room, etc.), to left-leaning media (CNN, MSNBC, Washington Post, etc.).

I've done communications, marketing and branding work as a trusted and respected resource for The Epoch Times for about the last four years. I'm a frequent guest on various high-profile news and commentary shows.

Since 2021, I have produced and published FreedomTalk Magazine, dedicated to restoring the American Republic by reseeding America's founding values and Judeo-Christian virtues back into the hearts and minds of our people. The list of content contributors is top-level, and my own articles garner a great deal of praise for both their scholarship and accessibility to a wide audience. I host an accompanying podcast.

I have a passion for free speech, equality under the law and championing individual liberty. I've committed my career to helping others, from targeted school parents to censored whistleblowers. I regularly collaborate with friends like Riley Gaines, members of Congress like Jim Jordan and Paul Gosar, and even entertainers like Jimmy Levy and Kevin Sorbo to gain traction in the Culture War.

I'm very selective in considering any position and appreciate your consideration. You are doing the work that drives me every day, and I know we can achieve incredible things together.

Warm regards,

"Kelly is dedicated to his craft and a very hard worker. Kelly's honesty and integrity shine through in his tasks and I have to say at a time when it's hard to find talented people with excellent character, Kelly rises to the top." -Steve Lance, Washington DC Bureau Chief, NTD News/Epoch Times

I've had the pleasure of getting to know Kelly professionally and as a friend. He is known and respected from Capitol Hill to local communities for his leadership and passion for Natural Rights and constitutional rule of law. He is a gifted writer, speaker, and networker, and most importantly, he has a ton of energy! It is my pleasure to recommend him as a Communications Director. -Jan Jekielek, Senior Editor with The Epoch Times, host of "American Thought Leaders," and international human rights advocate.

"I've known Kelly for several years. He is diligent and a multi-dimensional asset to any team he's on. The thing I like most about him is his love and devotion to God, his family and our country." -Congressman Eli Crane (AZ), former Navy Seal

"I've been CEO of one of the largest agencies in Southern California, so I speak from experience. When working with Kelly, there is always a confidence that the job will get done and done right. Beyond that, we always have a great time doing it, and there is a passion and enthusiasm for the work that is always present. He eats stress and is intimidated by nothing I throw his way. Add to that he is fast, efficient and creatively brilliant and you have a rare resource. As for his character, I can tell you that Kelly is about commitment and integrity more than anything and delivers what he says he's going to deliver. In short, he's a man of his word who thinks beyond himself and more about others...and that's what makes him so special. He is a great team player, a great communicator, great husband and father. Oh—almost forgot—he's incredibly funny and you'll be laughing a lot when he's around." -Dean del Sesto, builder of brands, 4-time published author, speaker, advisor

"Kelly's commitment to our Republic, and his skills as a writer and statesman have earned him the respect of the Conservative community. This is the essence of the American story, that 'ordinary' people can do extraordinary things when they are motivated by love of God, country, and family." -Cheryl Chumley, Washington Times

"Kelly is an American patriot and a firm believer in the Constitution. He is resilient and has turned his own persecution into a communications career to help protect the free speech and civil rights of others." -Brad Jones, award-winning journalist, The Epoch Times

"Kelly Walker is a frequent author and contributor to Andrew Magazine, well known for his research and reflections on American civics and social behaviors that were once the norm. Kelly is standing on the shoulders of our nation's founders. Just as they stood up to tyranny, Mr. Walker has done the same. Just as our founders were assailed by those loyal to the Crown, Mr. Walker has been arrested, fined, spied upon, repeatedly threatened with bodily harm and yet refused to be silenced. As he continues to stand up for children and parent's rights, he has gathered to himself citizens, politicians, law enforcement, magistrates and judges who also demand equal protection of children and parent's rights. Andrew Magazine, the fastest growing publication in the nation, applauds his efforts and stands with him without reservation." -Eric Rickard, Editor, Andrew Magazine

"Kelly is known from Phoenix to DC as a tireless champion for individual human rights and selfless advocacy for those in need of constitutional legal defense. That's why I asked him to be a board member for the Gavel Project." -Ryan Heath, AZ Attorney, civil rights activist

"After working to craft a new brand strategy for our Minneapolis law firm client, Kelly took the strategy to heart and came back with exceptional web page design that was a "WOW" when it was seen the first time. Kelly brought great expertise in considering messaging beyond the design as well. Even though the clients or I never met with Kelly in person, communication was excellent, responsive and precise. Our client continues to receive rave reviews of their website which highlights some of their top clients." -Nevin Nolder III, President: Brand Cat Branding Agency

"Kelly Walker has worked on contract for the Epoch Times for several years, primarily for the subscription marketing team. Other departments have utilized his skills as well. Kelly is a dedicated, responsive, and highly skilled writer, editor, and communications professional, whom I'm happy to recommend." -Kirk Wang, VP of Sales & Marketing, The Epoch Times

"Kelly Walker is a talented, courageous, and hard-working individual who will bring great value to any organization fortunate enough to have him. I have known and worked with Kelly for several years and am happy to recommend him to anyone who asks." -Alex Newman, Award-winning international journalist, Liberty Sentinel Executive Editor

"I thank God for you, Kelly Walker. It's because of folks like you that I can speak out boldly, and I want to say, 'God bless you for speaking out and standing. I applaud you for strengthening the Church.'" -Eric Metaxas, author, speaker, producer
